NEW BUSINESS:

CITY PLANNER'S REPORT:

1 MR. GOMEZ: We'll move on to New Business. We have the
2 City Planner's Report. We have the Indiana Citizen Planner's
3 Guide, Chapter 10, Site Development Plan Review.

4 MR. POWERS: Good afternoon, Council. This chapter
5 directly pertains to a lot of the job responsibilities of the 6 Plan Commission. So it is good to be familiar with it.

7 Start off by reading the Introduction and going to 8 some of these details a little bit.

9 Site and development plan review of public and 10 private projects is conducted by the Plan Commission or its 11 designated staff to ensure compliance with stated policies of 12 the comprehensive and other relevant jurisdictional plans and 13 zoning district development and design standards.

14 Nearly all physical development necessitates the 15 submission of a site/sketch plan before a permit can be 16 issued.

17 Examples include, but are not limited to fences,
18 signs and pools.

19 On the more simple end of the scale is a 20 residential garage. One must know the size of the garage, 21 how it relates to other structures on the property and its 22 distance from property lines.

23 More complex projects such as a new bank,
24 multifamily residential, retail center, business park, et 25 cetera, or projects in specifically designated districts typically will require a development plan before a permit can be issued.

In these cases there are many issues that need to be addressed including access from public streets, site layout, building size, internal vehicular and pedestrian circulation, drainage, parking, landscaping, utility connections and lighting.

Design details including building materials, architectural style, roof, entrance details and others also may be important to a community.

So the section that talks about defining a site plan a lot of that is determined by what the Building Department and Planning Department are looking for in regards to permits and zoning clearance.

ORIGINAL

1 The section that goes around defining development
2 plan, this goes into some details that are good for you to be 3 familiar with. What I would add onto this is that how our 4 process works here is the contractor has to originally submit 5 plans to the Planning Department.

6 Those will be reviewed internally. Then there 7 would be a tech committee review date that the would be 8 established.

9 And what the tech committee would do is all the 10 affected department heads that would have a say in how this 11 does or does not comply with their standards would give 12 technical feedback in regards to what the proposes project 13 was.

14 Now with that being said if there's any corrections
15 that are needed, if everything is not viewed as technically 16 correct, they would have to make those corrections. Then 17 that would have to be brought back in front of the technical 18 committee.

19 At the time which all corrections have been 20 successfully addressed and met everyone's requirements then 21 that project would come before you. And then you would have 22 the determination on approval or denial at that time.

23 So this shows some examples of possible flowcharts.
24 But really that is how our policy is and our standards.

25 So if you do have any questions that pertain to how we handle things or something that I didn't necessarily discuss in this chapter like compliance with the comprehensive plan, that weighs into the process as well, I will gladly answer those questions.

 However it's kind of more general and case by case
a lot of times.

MR. GOMEZ: Any questions or comments? Thank you,
Mr. Powers.

MR. POWERS: Thank you.

OLD BUSINESS: None.

COMMISSIONER COMMENTS: None.
